THE OLD FLAG O. K.

A Centennial Episode That Was Only a Blurzer.

A SOUTH CAROLINA GENERAL FORGOT THE NATIONAL COLORS.

A Prominent Ex-Confederate Gets Back at General Sherman, and Says the People of South Carolina Are as Loyal to the Stars and Stripes as Those of Any Northern State.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 8.—Gen. Sherman's interview, published here Sunday in reference to the absence of the stars and stripes in the South Carolina regiment in the centennial parade, has raised a storm of excited indignation, which is directed about evenly between Gen. Sherman and the general who had command of the South Carolina troops. Sherman is not exactly a favorite in South Carolina.

A prominent ex-Confederate who took part in the parade in New York, and that he did not care much about what Sherman said.

"If," said he, "Maj. McLean, of the Old Guard, or some other Union soldier, had called our attention to it and kicked us for our stupid blunder, I would not have had a word to say; but Sherman makes me sick. I don't think he likes South Carolina."
"If he will come down here," said a United States flag on the ruins of every house he burned on his journey through the state, and one on every tree which his hangers used to hang niggers on to make them tell where the family had buried the household silver.

"The Old Guard, of New York, the Boston Lancers, the Boston Tigers, and the First Connecticut regiment, who have visited South Carolina since the war, can tell whether they saw any United States flags when they were down here.

Not Properly Organized.

"The trouble is that the militia in this state is not properly organized. There is not a single regiment or battalion in the service that has a stand of regimental colors like the New York regiments. The companies are scattered and seldom parade in regimental formation. When they do each company carries its own flag, the flag presented to them by their lady friends. That's how the South Carolina contingent came to parade without the National colors. The brigadier who commanded them forgot all about regimental colors, or probably had never heard of such a thing. It was simply a blunder, that is all.

As Loyal as Northern States.

"As to devotion to the flag of the country, you just let a war break out between the United States and anybody else, and I think you will find South Carolina will furnish three volunteers for every one furnished by Ohio or New York, in proportion to her white population.

"They may forget to turn out with the National colors on a holiday parade, but you will find no better defenders of the stars and stripes than those same boys and that same brigadier, who did not leave the National colors in their picnic."

Has the Right Ring.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 8.—There is a number of Union veterans in Charleston who have applied for a charter for the organization of the post of the Grand Army of the Republic here. One of the veterans said:

"We do not want carpetbaggers. We are South Carolinians now, having earned the title by living here for twenty years. We simply desire, as all true Carolinians do, to keep up pleasant memories of the past and our devotion to the Union. The war is over, in fact has been over for nearly a quarter of a century, and there is no animosity in any true soldier's heart, Confederate or Federal. The flag of our country is the flag of all of us, and we all propose to stand by it, federates and confederates."

Oil Struck at Terre Haute.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., May 8.—Tremendous excitement was created here Monday night by the striking of oil at a depth of 1,000 feet at the oil well. A jet spouted up sixty feet into the air and a heavy flow six inches in diameter began. The pressure was so great it could not be shut off, and in a short time the ground for a square around the well was flooded several inches. Drillers say it is the biggest well they ever struck. They estimate the flow at 1,000 barrels a day. Fears are entertained that the flooded ground will catch fire from sparks from locomotives.

A Deliberate Suicide.

VINCENNES, Ind., May 8.—S. D. Williams, general agent of the Siberling Machine company, of Akron, O., suicided Monday morning at Fort Branch, Ind., by cutting his throat with a pocket knife. He had been showing the machine, and suddenly walked to the rear of the hardware store and sat down on a box. Without a word, he drew his knife and cut a horrible gash, severing the jugular vein, and died instantly. Williams had just mailed a letter to his wife at Crawfordsville, Ind., where he lived. No cause known for the rash act.

The Johns Hopkins Hospital.

BALTIMORE, May 8.—The Johns Hopkins hospital at Monument street and Broadway has been formally opened. It is one of the finest and most complete institutions in the world, embraces seventeen buildings, which covers four acres of ground, and is surrounded by ten acres more of beautiful grounds which will afford healthful exercise to the patients. Its construction was begun more than ten years ago and the total cost was $2,150,000.

SONS OF VETERANS.

State Encampment of Ohio to Be Held in Cincinnati, May 14 to 16.

CINCINNATI, May 8.—The state encampment of the Sons of Veterans will be held in this city May 14, 15 and 16. A large attendance is expected. No less than 3,000 will participate in the parade. The headquarters will be at the Gibson house, and the meetings will be held at the Standard theatre. The first day will be devoted to the election of officers and the reports of committees.

William E. Bundy, the young attorney of this city, nephew of Governor Foraker, is booked for colonel of the Ohio division. Mr. Bundy holds the office of council-in-chief in the National organization.

Southern Ohio has never yet been recognized in the selection of a colonel, and it is said that this section of the state will be sold for Bundy at the coming election.

The exercises of the second day will consist of the installation of the newly-elected officers and the exemplification of muster service, winding up in the evening with a bean-bake at the Highland house.

The parade will take place on the third day, at the close of which the Sons of Veterans will break camp.

The growth of the order in the past two or three years has been marvelous. In the United States it embraces a membership of 85,000; in Ohio over 10,000—a gain of over 3,000 in a single year.

VINCENNES, Ind., May 8.—The St. Vincent orphan asylum, three miles east of this city, burned Monday, entailing a loss of $50,000. The fire obtained a good start before it was discovered, and was soon beyond control. It was a Catholic institution, and under the direction of the Catholic church of the Vincennes diocese. About 150 orphans were educated here. The fire caught from a defective flue. All the children escaped. Sister Bridget was seriously burned, and had a remarkable escape from death. The institution will be rebuilt at once.

FISH CULTURE.

Proposed Plans of the Commission for the Summer.

OHIO AND INDIANA WATERS TO BE PLANTED WITH EGGS.

Numerous Other States to Be Supplied Also.—The New Hatchery at Put-in-Bay Island to Be the Largest in the World. Secretary Windom's Condition Considerably Improved.—National News.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—To a reporter, Monday, Col. McDonald, the fish commissioner, set forth in detail the plans proposed by him for the summer.

At the request of the Ohio fish commission the United States commission this spring added to its regular program the distribution of pike perch, commonly called pickerel, eggs, and fry collected and hatched at Sandusky.

About 80,000,000 eggs were secured, and these are now being planted in the waters of Illinois, Ohio and western Pennsylvania. The trip of the distributing car to Illinois is reported to have been one of the most successful ever made.

The distribution of shad eggs and fry is being conducted from several hatcheries in the east. A car has left Washington on its second trip to the south with 4,000,000 eggs, going direct to Montgomery, Ala., where the distribution to local streams will be made.

On the first trip only 300,000 of the 4,000,000 eggs on board, or less than 10 per cent., were lost. There are now being taken at Fort Washington station, ten miles down the Potomac river, about 20,000,000 shad. During the summer the cars will be engaged in the collecting and planting of indigenous fishes in the Mississippi valley in the states of Nebraska, Kansas, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Missouri and Michigan.

The several steamers attached to the commission have their summer's work laid out for them and it is of great importance. The Albatross will leave San Francisco about June 1, going as far as the Privetow islands in Behring sea, where a study will be made of the sea fisheries, in accordance with a resolution of congress, adopted last session, as well as of the general fisheries along the southern Alaska peninsula. On the way up the Albatross will leave a party of investigators in Alaska, who will examine into the salmon fisheries there, under the terms of another congressional resolution.

The new hatcheries are to be located at Put-in-Bay Island, Lake Erie, which will be the largest fish hatchery in the world, having a capacity of 500,000,000 eggs a year; at Evergreen Lake, Colorado, and Baird's Point, California. Plans for these improvements are all completed now, and it is expected to have them erected and ready to begin work in the fall, when the white fish season begins.

Secretary Windom Better.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Secretary Windom is better, but not well enough to leave his house. His condition has been much more serious than was supposed. He had a severe attack of cholera morbus Thursday night, which did not fully succumb to medical treatment until Saturday night. He was much prostrated Sunday, but felt much stronger Monday, so much so that he was able to leave his bed and dictate several letters to his private secretary, who spent several hours with him.

Final Instructions.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Ex-Governor Foster, William Warner and Secretary Miller, of the Sioux commission, called on Secretary Noble Monday and received their final instructions. Gen. Crook will meet his associates in Chicago May 27, from which point they will together proceed to the Sioux reservation in Dakota.

THE WOMEN OF INDIA.

An Attempt Will Be Made to Better Their Wretched Condition.

NEW YORK, May 8.—The Ramabai association, of which Rev. E. E. Hale is president, and the object of which is to ameliorate the condition of the women of India, held its first New York meeting Monday night. Mrs. Courtland Palmer is president of the New York branch, and it is proposed to establish branches in the various cities. Mr. Hale explained that of the 100,000,000 women in India 20,000,000 are widows, and of the latter 1,000,000 are under 19 years of age. These "child widows" are held in bondage worse than slavery, being restricted to certain kinds of food and dress, secluded from society, forced to drudgery, and rarely allowed to marry. It is proposed to raise funds for a school in India where the more fortunate of this class can be taught how to render assistance to the others and break up this system.

CYCLONE IN DAKOTA.

Fargo Given a Shake-Up—A Blinding Sand Storm Proceeds It.

FARGO, Dak., May 8.—Buildings were unroofed, telephone and electric light wires prostrated and other damage done in this city, Monday, by a cyclone which passed over Fargo. The storm moved from south to north and was preceded by a blinding sand storm. The usual roaring sound accompanied it. The street in front of the Silverman block is filled with debris from the upper story of the building, which was badly damaged. The electric light tower lies across the railroad track.

While a man at Carlisle, Pa., was running a plane his coat tail got tangled and was fortunately torn off. A bit of wood in his pocket blocked a cogwheel and saved his life. The wood was a piece of John Brown's scarf.—Brooklyn Eagle

TAR AND FEATHERS.

An Old Reprobate at Paulding, Ohio, Visited by a Mob.

PAULDING, O., May 8.—Last Saturday night about midnight a gang of men, securely masked, took possession of George W. Cox, an alleged attorney, and decorated his person with tar and feathers. He was entirely stripped of his clothing, and the job was neatly performed.

Cox is about 60 years of age, and has been in several scrapes. It is said that five years ago, at Payne's, this county, he made an attempt to rape a little girl, when the citizens drove him from their midst at the point of shotguns. He then came here, and it is said, has been guilty of enticing young girls, whose ages range from 6 to 12 years, into his office and corrupting them by his talk and actions.

Mr. Fish is reported to be in good health. It is generally admitted that he has no money but will go out into the world again 76 years of age and penniless. He declines to say what he intends doing, but it is believed his friends will assist him to start in some business in a small way.

Several outraged ex-soldiers who got up on their hind legs and howled so loud, can now get down and keep quiet until the next Presidential campaign opens.—Bourbon News.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—If Corporal Tanner is allowed to continue his present policy there will be no surplus in the treasury to embarrass the administration. He often orders pensions granted upon the mere ex parte statement of the applicant or his friend, without any investigation whatever of the merits of the case. In one instance he ordered a pension granted without even an examination of the papers in the case, though Judge Black had emphatically stamped the application as fraudulent. Tanner is showing incompetency in construing the pension laws, and has been several times overruled. He does not seem to consider the responsibility of his position at all, but does whatever some friend asks him without any regard to the restraints his position should impose. These matters are becoming the talk in official circles here, and people are asking how far will Harrison allow Tanner to go in his reckless raid upon the treasury.

The above is a special to the Louisville Post. If reports are not greatly exaggerated Harrison will regret ever having placed Tanner in the position he now occupies. One can judge of his official conduct from the above. But there are other complaints against him. The Louisville Times says: "The law requires him to furnish to the press the name and post-office address of every pensioner he causes to be placed on the roll. The reason of the rule is obvious—in order that gross frauds may be reported to the department by the neighbors of the pensioners; but the Corporal contents himself with furnishing the name only, and violates the law by withholding the address."

Libby Prison.

It would have been a fortunate thing for the country had Libby Prison been completely wrecked and destroyed by the accident on the C. & O. R. R. Monday near Springdale. As the Covington Commonwealth remarks the sale of the prison to a syndicate of Chicago sharks was "an outrage on decency." The Commonwealth adds: "The old building had been taken down shingle by shingle, joist by joist, brick by brick, piece by piece, each carefully numbered and marked, and even the mortar preserved, in order that a depraved taste might be pandered to at Chicago, and the maws of the sharks filled by the exhibition of the re-erected Libby Prison on the Lake Shore."

"It was disgraceful to sell it and infinitely more so to buy it."

"There are a great many people who believe the war ended several years ago, and that the peace and good will so loudly preached about would be a more substantial fact if there were fewer monuments erected to recall for all time a four years' season of bloodshed."

Later information from the scene of the wreck shows that the material of the prison was not greatly damaged, and it will not be a great while now—no preventing Providence—before the structure will be on exhibition at Chicago.

Major Henry T. Stanton's Novel.

The Washington City Critic says: "Major Henry T. Stanton, of the Interior Department, known also as the poet-laureate of Kentucky, a title which he disclaims, who has written some of the daintiest poems in the language, has essayed the novel, and his first effort in that direction attaining to the dignity of a bound volume was placed on sale by W. H. Morrison, the F-street bookseller, last Saturday, and one hundred copies were sold during the afternoon."

"The novel bears the title, 'Social Fetters,' and the scene is laid in Baltimore and in Virginia, in the time before the war. It is a story with the plot predominant, and is not of the analytic style of the Boston modern novel. It is not diffusive in treatment, the interest being concentrated at all times, so that the reader does not put the book down until he has finished it, nor does he go to sleep over it. It bears few marks of the amateur, and, while possibly not classic, is such a story as will be generally read, and certainly will be thoroughly enjoyed. It is short, only 100 pages, but it is complete, and, as the small boy remarked of the pie, 'it tastes like more.'"

Two San Francisco Winners.

Butchertown, South San Francisco, is likely to become very popular. One of the happiest men in this thriving suburb is Hans M. C. Mangels, who keeps a grocery store on the corner of Railroad avenue and Manitoba street. He had bought Louisiana State Lottery tickets, and a few days before the March drawing he resolved to try once more. He held a coupon of ticket 2,887, and so won $15,000. He was paid last Thursday in full. Wm. Griffin, also a San Franciscan, was the other lucky man in last week's drawing. He is a printer by occupation and has for some time past worked on the Guide at 521 Clay street. Appearances are very deceptive, however, as the result proved, for the little number 2,887 was the means of enriching him to the extent of $15,000. San Francisco (Cal.) Chronicle, March 17.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

MORANSBURG.

Farmers are through with their corn planting.

The recent cold snap has caused the fruit to fall off badly.

Miss Sallie Best, of Ripley, is visiting friends in this neighborhood.

Miss Bettie Klog, of Limestone, is the guest of Miss Annie Lee Ristoe, of Charleston Bottom.

Tobacco plants are very scarce in this neighborhood, and a great deal of the ground laid out for tobacco will be planted in corn the coming week.

A protracted meeting is in progress at the Christian Church. Large crowds are attending but there have been no additions to date. The meeting will in all probability continue through this week.

Wm. Marsh sold his crop of tobacco this week to Scot Osborne at 11 cents from the ground up. Collins Ricketts sold his crop to the same party for 10 1/2 cents all round.

FARRIS, LEWIS COUNTY.

In accordance of general order from National headquarters Croxton Post will observe Memorial Day at old East Fork Church. At a regular meeting May 4th at Trinity Hall, Sand Hill, committees were appointed on Decoration, on Flowers, on Music, on Speakers and on Order. Elder T. P. Deegan will act as Chaplain. A special meeting of the post will be held May 15th at Myers' school house at 2 o'clock p. m. to hear report from Chaplain. Several speakers are invited and it is hoped the committee will be successful and that many will be present to aid in the day's exertions. All the neighboring posts in the county are invited. Come out and pay tribute of respect to our late comrades.

TWO LICK.

John Haughaboo was found drowned in Two Lick Creek Monday the 6th of May. By the request of his friends, Squire S. M. Woodward held an inquest over the remains. The jury, after careful investigation, made the following verdict, viz: "We the jury find that the dead body now before us is that of Jno. Haughaboo, of Mason County, Ky., aged about thirty-four, who came to his death by drowning, while in a boat, in the waters of Two Lick Creek near his residence on the 6th of May, 1889, at 2 o'clock p. m."

MAYOR PEARCE on petition of the Committee on Wharves and Ferries yesterday suspended the enforcement of the ferry ordinance until next meeting of the City Council, and the Gretna Green resumed her regular trips at once. About the only feature of the ordinance Captain Power objects to is the section requiring him to start his boat at 4 a. m.

ROASTED HORSEFLESH.

Captain Moore's Stables Near Shawhan Destroyed—No Insurance—Loss $60,000.

Captain Moore, a prominent breeder of thoroughbred horses, met with a heavy loss yesterday morning. His stables caught fire in some way and burned to the ground, together with twelve or fifteen fine horses. The stables are located in Bourbon County, near Shawhan Station, on the Kentucky Central.

It is not learned how the fire originated. Being some distance from any town, there was no way in which to check the flames, and the destruction of the property was soon complete.

Thirteen valuable horses perished. In the lot were Kentucky Hambletonian valued at $10,000; Von Wilkes, two years old, $15,000; Twilight Wilkes, $3,500; Bourbon Bismarck, $4,500; Bismarck Pilot, $4,000; Johnson, $2,000; Mike, $1,000; Star Bismarck, $3,500; Bourbon Mark, $3,000; Lily, $2,000; Perfection, $1,500; Count Bismarck, $2,500.

The loss is placed at $60,000, and a special says there was no insurance on the property.

Kentucky Hambletonian trotted in the 2:27 class at the Maysville fair last August, but was fifth in the race.

Captain Moore is related, by marriage, to Mr. James Nolin of this city, his wife and Mrs. Nolin being sisters. He has a number of friends here who will regret to learn of his misfortune.

Railway News.

The first quarter of the present year the net earnings of the Bee Line were $468,879, as against $424,684 in 1878.

Three suits on notes have recently been entered against the Houston and Texas Central road for $2,704,575. C. P. Huntington is the supposed plaintiff.

The earnings of the Ohio and Mississippi road for the fourth week of April show a decrease of $1,861.44, as compared with those for the corresponding week of last year.

The C. and O. Railroad company have been obliged to change the grade at the Cincinnati end of the new bridge. As it was before, it was difficult for a heavily loaded train to mount the approach at the curve. The change was made Sunday and Monday, and the trains now pass over the bridge with ease.

Anent the subject of railroad racing, a prominent English paper says: "Before the inauguration of the racing last season the 'Flying Scotchman' was the fastest train in the world, making the 394 miles from King's Cross, London, to Waverly street, Edinburgh, in nine hours. This time was cut down to eight and one-half hours, and on August 1st last cut again to eight hours. Five days later the North-west people decided that their 'West Coast Flyer' should make the same time, though its run was six miles longer. The race was watched with almost breathless interest. Euston Station and King's Cross are within a stone's throw of each other, and the two rival trains left London at exactly the same moment. The 'West Coast Flyer' ran into Edinburgh with ten minutes to spare, having made the 400 miles in seven hours and twenty-five minutes, excluding stoppages, or an average rate of fifty-three and one-half miles per hour. Eight minutes later the 'Flying Scotchman' came in, beaten eight minutes in time by a train that had to cover an additional six miles of track."

Stock, Field and Farm.

It is stated that more than sixteen thousand horses are slaughtered for food in Paris every year.

R. D. Chinn, near Mayslick, has sold his crop of tobacco to Hon. A. P. Gooding at 10 cents all 'round.

Wm. Marsh, living near Moransburg, has sold his crop of tobacco to Scott Osborne at 11 cents from the ground up. Collins Ricketts, of same vicinity, sold his to same party at 10½ cents all 'round.

The complaint of farmers on account of the scarcity of tobacco plants seems to be general. We have heard of a good many who have been reworking their beds. This is proof positive that the complaint is not a ruse.—Augusta Chronicle.

With the exception of the year 1863, Rysdyk's Hambleton was in the stud from 1851 to the time of his death in 1875, a period of twenty-five years. During this time he got 1,333 living foals. The first of these to acquire distinction upon the turf was the famous Dexter.

The Hustler, of Madisonville, Hopkins County, has this to say of farmers and farming in that locality: Farmers were never at this season of the year better up with their work than at present. Many of them are done planting corn, while all of them are well up with their farming interests. Everything has been favorable to them. The ground breaks well, while the weather has been such as to make glad his heart. The prospects for a good crop of all kinds was never more flattering.

WM. CLANAHAN, who has charge of Wormald's coal boats, fell in a barge Monday, striking on his right side and breaking two of his ribs. The statement yesterday that it was Wm. McClellan was a mistake.

HAVING bought our goods from the largest manufacturers and importers, enables us to give our customers prices and goods that can not be duplicated. Satisfy yourself by coming to see us before purchasing. Yours, HOPPER & MURPHY.

Bon HENDERSON, of Millersburg, and Tony Moore, Joe Harris and John Stivers, of North Middleton, all colored, have been placed under $200 bond by U. S. Commissioner Hastings, of Paris, to answer for selling liquor without having complied with "Uncle Sam's" laws.

THERE may be better goods for sale than those Ballenger, the jeweler, offers, but they are not to be found in Maysville. His gold and silver watches are the best manufactured, and are correct time-keepers. If you intend buying anything in the jewelry line you will regret it if you don't call on Ballenger.

JOHN J. CORNELLISON has about recovered from the attack of rheumatism with which he was suffering when Governor Buckner resided him. The respite expires July 8, and Cornellison will then have to return to the jail at Mt. Sterling and serve out the rest of his sentence for cow-hiding Judge Reid.

It is a fact that the fairs of the bluegrass section for the coming season are now looming up under the most favorable auspices. The trotting circuit will be unusually interesting, as the entries to all classes have been made with a view to close contest, and through some rolling cloud of dust a claimant for the title of king or queen of the turf will this season poke a nose.—Bourbon News

PATRIARCHS WM. H. COX, Thomas A. Davis, J. Barbour Russell, Ed Powell, Albert Huff, C. C. Calhoun, James W. Piper, R. A. Taup, J. M. C. Ballenger, George Schwartz, Duke A. Ruffy and others of Pisgah Encampment No. 9, I. O. O. F., attended a meeting of the camp at Manchester last night. Three candidates "rode the goat," and were duly initiated into the mysteries of the Royal Purple degree.

JAMES LASHURO, regot judgment in the Circuit Court yesterday for $250 against the Kentucky Central Railroad Company. During the camp meeting last August a train ran over a horse and buggy belonging to plaintiff one Sunday night near Dimmitt's Station, killing the animal and demolishing the vehicle. Suit was finally commenced against the company for the value of the property, and the action resulted as above.

THE Covington Commonwealth says: "Several of our citizens are showing very interesting souvenirs in the shape of bricks taken from the old Libby prison. A train loaded with these bricks was on its way to Chicago, but was wrecked on the C. and O. railway early Monday morning, near Maysville. Twelve cars were overturned in the ditch. The bricks are of very peculiar shape, being twelve inches long, four inches wide and two inches thick."

AN Indiana man says: "All dogs have a small white worm at the root of the tongue on the under side, and running lengthwise. This worm is the source of all hydrophobia; take it out and your dog is safe. The operation can be easily performed by inserting a common shoemaker's awl under it in the middle and pulling it through. I have seen it done many times. A Scotchman taught me the secret about fifty years ago. He said that the practice was generally followed in Scotland and that mad dog outbreaks never occurred there."

Narrow Escape From a Collision.

A misunderstanding of orders came near causing a serious collision on the C. & O. Road just below this city Monday afternoon.

From the information obtained it seems an engine, eastbound and running loose, was to sidetrack at Broshear's Station five miles below here to allow the west-bound Fast Line passenger train to pass. Instead of doing this, the engine continued her trip. On coming around the curve at Sullivan's point, the west-bound Fast Line was discovered at Pogner's distillery. The trains were half a mile distant from each other when the danger was discovered. The engines were reversed at once, but when the trains were finally stopped they had approached to within a few feet of each other. Fortunately they had met on a straight part of the road. It was a narrow escape. Had the eastbound been a minute later or the westbound a minute faster they would have met at Sullivan's point and a collision could not have been averted.

GERMANY'S OFFER

Her Terms for the Settlement of the Samoan Difficulty.

A TRIPLE PROTECTORATE SEEMS TO BE THE MOST PRACTICABLE.

It is Explained Why Count Bismarck Used French at the Opening of the Conference—The Nihilists Continue Undaunted—The Young King of Serbia May Soon Lose His Crown—Foreign Notes.

NEW YORK, May 8.—A Herald special from Berlin says: From a source which, though excellent, I am not at liberty to quote, I am enabled to present to you an approximate estimate of the terms that would satisfy Germany in the solution of the Samoan difficulty. It cannot be denied, nor is it denied by Americans who have been in the island, that the Germans have invested more money—three times as much, they claim—in Samoa, as both England and the United States taken together.

The Conditions.

What the German government therefore claims is, first, satisfaction for the killing of the German officers and sailors in the action with Matafua's men on December 17 last, and, secondly, compensation for losses sustained by German investors and owners of plantations. Therefore, if the United States will purchase the plantations owned by the German company, or the Samoans themselves purchase the plantations, payment being guaranteed by the United States, Germany will not make the slightest resistance to the installation of Malietoa or some one of the minor chiefs, and therefore names Tannese, he having a following, and Matafua being utterly out of the question from the German standpoint. They will also probably urge the punishment of Matafua, say by imprisonment for a time on a German man-of-war, or on an island under the German flag. They may waive this condition in consideration of a round sum paid to the widows and orphans or nearest relatives of the Germans slain on the island.

The Neutrality of Samoa.

The third condition, equally acceptable to each of the three powers, is that the three collectively guarantee the neutrality of Samoa. In other words, Germany wishes to save the stake in the islands, and it would perhaps be the wisest policy on the part of the United States to accept this, after all, as the simplest solution of the difficulty, and by a well-timed concession to Germany's tender sense of honor and solicitude for the welfare of her colonists, make a friend of her forever.

Why He Used French.

Well informed Germans assure me that Count Herbert Bismarck had not the slightest intention of impressing the English speaking members of the conference with a sense of the greatness of Germany at the expense of their own feelings, when he made that famous speech in French at the beginning of the conference. He was obliged, though he speaks English like an Englishman, to uphold his right to use French as the language of diplomatic intercourse. If he had opened the conference in English the Spaniards, Italians, Portuguese or Russians might have pointed to the precedent as justification of their right to use their own language, with which he might not be equally familiar, at some future conference. Nor is it true that the two American members of the conference were entirely ignorant of that language. Mr. Phelps spoke that language in diplomatic intercourse at the Austrian court, and Mr. Bates himself assured me that he understood almost every word the count uttered on that memorable occasion.

England Leans Toward Germany.

While it is well known that England's leanings in the conference are toward Germany on that vexed question of secret understanding concerning Tonga, Sir Edward maintained an obstinate silence. He expressed himself, however, in a very kindly manner regarding the favorable impression produced upon himself and others at the conference by their American colleagues. Sir Edward, and there is no better judge in such matters, is inclined to think that another month will see the labor of the conference ended. He had met Mr. Kasson before, at the Congo conference, when both of them were representing their respective countries.

It May Take Six Sitzings.

In Sir Edward's library there lies on a spider web near the window a large folio of volumes containing, in all the glory of gilt edges and magnificent printing, the minutes of the Congo conference. When your representative asked Sir Edward about how often the Samoan conference would sit he turned to this book, and after consulting it said he believed that now, as at the Congo conference, all matters of detail would be referred to a sub-committee. The Congo conference, he remarked, sat only ten times during those three months. Five or six sittings, therefore, will, in all probability, suffice to settle the Samoan matter.

The Emperor Regrets Our Iron Rule. At the presentation of colors last Thursday morning to the First Regiment of Foot Guards, Messrs. Kasson, Phelps and Bates were in evening dress, and it is understood the Kaiser was graciously pleased to express his regret at the iron rule that insists on that costume on such occasions as a substitute for full uniform. Amid that large crowd of imperial guests, attired one and all in uniforms of every hue of the rainbow, the American representatives attracted general notice by the republican simplicity of their attire. It is safe to say that if over three American diplomats regretted the absence of a diplomatic uniform in the American service the three gentlemen did. The two young naval officers, Buckingham and Parker, were in full uniform, cocked hats and all, and no couple of handsome and rich young fellows could have been picked out to do Uncle Sam's service more credit.

Graciously Received by Count Bismarck. Nothing could have been more eminently gracious than the manner in which Count Bismarck received his guests at dinner the other day in the garden pavilion of the foreign office, where he makes his home. When the hour for leave-taking came, and it was a late one, for Count Herbert is a host who will not be denied, he walked across the large garden with each one of the departing guests, while in the great trees that surround the house the siren voices of great numbers of nightingales poured forth a volume of sweet melody to enchant the ears of Uncle Sam's Republican representatives.

Wanted to Show Germany's Strength.

Some people have ventured to assert that when the emperor issued his invitation to the Americans to attend the parade at Potsdam he did so with the view of impressing them with a sense of the military power of Germany. If so, he certainly succeeded. "Nowhere in the world," said one of the naval officers attached to the commission afterward, "can you see such absolute precision of movement, such large masses of men so deftly and skilfully handled."

Increased Nihilist Activity.

LONDON, May 8.—Scarcely a day passes now that does not bring press dispatches or private communications from St. Petersburg telling of increased Nihilist activity and a corresponding increase of the fears of the czar for his safety. The Russian police have redoubled their efforts of late to thwart Nihilist plots and break up Nihilist haunts with extremely gratifying results, but despite the vigilance of the czar's minions the conspirators continue their work undaunted, and the terror of his imperial majesty grows apace.

This state of affairs is said upon good authority to have so affected the czar's health that his condition gives much cause for anxiety. Reports as to his physical and mental health, exaggerated, perhaps, but still based upon a visible change in his appearance and demeanor, are current in London and represent him as having lost both flesh and spirits to an alarming degree within the past few months. These reports are freely discussed at the clubs and after the considerate English manner, numerous wagers have been laid as to whether his majesty will fully recover from the nervous affection induced by the latest attempt at his assassination.

Those who know Dvornitzki, who is held as the projector of the latest Nihilist conspiracy against the life of the czar, do not believe that he has named or will name his accomplices, as has been stated. He bears the reputation among his fellows of being an indomitable man who took of his own free will what he regarded as the post of honor as it certainly was of danger.

The Youthful Serbian King.

LONDON, May 8.—All Europe is interested in the little King of Serbia. It was but Monday that King Milan sent his general, Protitch, to wrest from poor Queen Natalie the young prince who was her only son and the only consolation of her humiliations and adversities. She was compelled to yield to force. Prince Alexander was hurried back to Serbia. A caprice of his father tore him from his mother's arms. A new caprice has now placed King Milan's crown on the head of this boy of 13 years of age. It is a little crown, worn by a little king, and it is entirely possible that he may wear it for but a little while.

His little kingdom, lying, as it does, between the two great European rivals, Russia and Austria, may not long retain its independence. In a short time—shorter than anyone would now venture to predict—the young King Alexander may again become Prince Alexander as before. In the meantime his youth, his beauty (which reminds one of his mother Queen Natalie, the misfortunes of his early years, and the uncertainties of his future make him an object of interest and sympathy to all men, and more especially to all the women of Europe.

A Royal Meeting.

LONDON, May 8.—An envoy of ex-Queen Natalie of Serbia, has arrived at Yalta to arrange with the Serbian regency for a meeting of the exiled queen and her son, King Alexander, at the castle of Ivanke. The youthful king is said to be quite anxious for the meeting as his mother, and it is known that M. Ristic is not adverse to it. The probabilities are, therefore, that no opposition will be made to the plan and that the meeting will take place at an early date, resulting in the return of Natalie to Belgrade.

Riot in Rome.

ROME, May 8.—A Radical banquet given in Terni last night to celebrate the anniversary of the French revolution, ended in a street riot between workmen and military, in which several persons were injured.

Mr. Pendleton Leaves Berlin.

BERLIN, May 8.—Mr. Pendleton, the retiring United States minister, and his two daughters, have gone to Schaulau.

Foreign Notes.

Gibbs' soap works, London, were burned. Loss £100,000.

It is stated that the czar will, in a short time, be crowned king of Poland.

Thirty persons engaged in selling a Socialist pamphlet have been arrested in Hamburg.

Perrin, who fired a blank cartridge at President Carnot, was recently under treatment for insanity.

The houses of sixteen members of the Boulangerist party at Nouilly have been searched by the police.

Capt. Wisman's force, 900 strong, has arrived at Bogomoyo, and active hostilities with the natives at that place are imminent.

Mr. William O'Brien and Mr. Edward Harrington, who were released from prison in order that they might give testimony before the Parnell commission, are in London. Mr. Harrington is attired in the prison dress.

The lately published correspondence of Morley proves that Prince Bismarck is by no means indifferent to a joke, and the risibilities of the grim chancery are said to have been largely awakened by the desire of Queen Victoria to bestow the Order of the Garter upon the queen regent of Spain, in spite of the historical dictum accepted for more than a century, "that the queens of Spain have no legs."

HARRISON'S HEALTH.

His Former Physician Says He Is Not Troubled With Bright's Disease.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 8.—The sensational reports emanating in Detroit that President Harrison had developed marked symptoms of Bright's disease and that this accounts for the deadly pallor of his features, has brought Dr. Henry Jameson, of this city, to the fore. Dr. Jameson says there is not a shadow of truth in the report that Harrison has kidney trouble. After his nomination several life insurance companies sought his patronage, and one of them placed a policy with him for $25,000. The examination disclosed no traces of Bright's disease and the risk was readily taken. Dr. Jameson also reports that the only sickness from which Harrison suffered was an attack of colic some months ago, and while it is true that he is pale, this is constitutional and not owing to illness.
